

2022 Boehringer Ingelheim Research Award for Graduate Veterinarians

July 29, 2021

Dear Program Director:

I am pleased to announce the 2022 Boehringer Ingelheim Research Award for Graduate Veterinarians. This award reinforces BI's mission to promote research in veterinary biosciences and reward those students who have excelled in their graduate or residency program. The award recognizes graduate veterinarians that have completed or will soon complete a PhD program or are in their final 1 to 2 years of residency training in the field of veterinary pathology, medicine, surgery, radiology/imaging, or laboratory animal medicine.

Please submit applications electronically (PDF format) by March 30, 2022 to:

Akihiko.Kusanagi@Boehringer-Ingelheim.com

Hard copy submissions will not be accepted.

The award is based on the following criteria:

- The applicant has received a doctorate degree in veterinary medicine.
- The applicant has completed or will soon complete a PhD program or are in their final 1 to 2 years of residency training in the field of veterinary pathology, medicine, surgery, radiology/imaging, or laboratory animal medicine in the US.
- The applicant will attend in person or virtually the National Veterinary Scholars Symposium in 2022 and present their work in the form of an oral presentation.

Applications for the award must be received by March 30, 2022. The application consists of:

- (1) Cover letter
- (2) Curriculum vitae
- (3) Scientific manuscript or detailed written description of research in journal format
- (4) Two letters of recommendation in support of submission

The award, which will be presented to the recipient at the 2022 National Veterinary Scholars Symposium, includes $2,500 cash plus travel stipend if applicable to present their work at the 2022 National Veterinary Scholars Symposium.
